Saint Michael's College is accredited by the British Council for the teaching of English as a Foreign Language.

Saint Michael's College is located in the region known as the "Heart of England", close to the cities of Hereford and Worcester. The area, well known for its outstanding natural beauty, is in the delightful rolling hills of the north Worcestershire countryside. It is an ideal location for those seeking a quiet, safe and supportive environment, away from the distractions of the large busy city. In short, it is an ideal environment in which to study.

Saint Michael's College is a small, friendly, international secondary boarding school offering GCSE and A Levels, University Foundation and summer courses to students from all over the world. Specialist English language provision is provided and plays a major role in the curriculum with almost all students going on to study at universities in Britain.

Great emphasis is placed on the personal attention which we give to each student. Each member of the teaching staff acts as personal tutor to a small group of students and ensures that parents are well informed of their child's progress.

The school is coeducational and offers the choice of residential or host family accommodation in carefully selected local families. A varied and exciting sports and social programme, including excursions, sports teams and cultural activities, is also provided.

A Level and A/S Level Programme

- Entry at 16 years old plus
- Normally a two year programme
- A/S Levels taken at the end of the first year and A2 Exams taken at the end of the second year
- Students choose to study 3 or 4 subjects from the following:
